How PreVeil enabled MEC² to get compliant, bid on government contracts that include CUI, and securely share the drawings with subcontractors, at a fraction of the cost of GCC High.

Affordable

"Microsoft GCC High was going to cost us over $30k. For a company our size, that doesn't make financial sense, especially since only 3-4 people would be involved in the communication of CUI. So we talked to our IT provider + they recommended PreVeil because their other clients were using it, and it was a fraction of the price."

Easy To Use

"The onboarding was easy; They showed me around and we were up and running…

And that's important – these are construction people – not tech people."

Share With Subcontractors

"I use PreVeil to share secure drawings with my subcontractors. Yesterday I sent documents out for a bid and in my inbox, I can see which subcontractors created free PreVeil accounts, which means they're interested… it's all right here in front of me."
