[Company Name] Expands CMMC Service Offerings Through PreVeil Partnership

[CITY, STATE] – [DATE] — [Company Name], a [managed service provider/compliance consultant] serving defense contractors in [region/industry], has formed a partnership with PreVeil to deliver encryption solutions specifically designed for CMMC compliance.

The partnership addresses a critical gap many defense contractors face: finding email and collaboration tools that meet CMMC’s encryption requirements without disrupting existing workflows. PreVeil’s platform provides FIPS 140-3 validated end-to-end encryption while integrating seamlessly with standard business processes.

Market Context

The Defense Industrial Base faces a significant compliance challenge as CMMC requirements roll out across all defense contractors handling Federal Contract Information (FCI) and Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI). Organizations that fail to achieve certification risk losing the ability to bid on and retain government contracts, creating urgency for proven compliance solutions.

According to [Company Name], many contractors underestimate the technical complexity of CMMC requirements, particularly around encryption and access controls.

“Standard email solutions simply don’t meet CMMC standards for protecting CUI. PreVeil was purpose-built for these requirements, which is why we’re seeing companies achieve perfect assessment scores using this platform.”
